

Jamie lands at Silver Plains

Aren't these great photos of adventuring trike pilots inspiring?

Especially so when the weather here has been dreadful for triking. Thanks to these photos of the Cape York trip from Billo and his fellow adventurers, we can gain inspiration for our own trips.

Despite the fact that the summer months have been even less inviting than usual with only brief windows of opportunity, we can look forward to Autumn with much better flying conditions and lots of hours of "getting some air under our feet."

Paul ✕

More Cape York photos from Billo

All Cape York photos courtesy of Bill Olive

CFI Don Cramer with Jamie Ross and his XT912 Outback taking a break from flying at Cape York