

First Solo for Ian

Ian is congratulated by Brendan on the completion of his first solo flight

Taking that first solo flight is something that all pilots remember clearly and fondly.

Ian Bawden achieved that landmark moment on 23rd November 2009 at 17:30 at the controls of his new XT-912 Tundra SST, T2-6777.

Congratulations Ian, it won't be long now before your graduate as a pilot and achieve your passenger-carrying endorsement and your cross-country endorsement.

Best wishes Ian for a long and enjoyable career as a pilot.

<

912XT Tundra SST strutted wing. Note the absence of top rigging

SST corner knuckle